

People Design Interactive Designers

At People Design we believe that great design makes better things and makes things better. We are an experience design firm committed to innovation in the area of customer experience. Ultimately we see our job as helping people tell their stories in a way that is so compelling, it moves people to action.

If you are an energetic and thoughtful senior user interface designer, information architect or flash designer/developer with a passion for designing amazing experiences in a highly collaborative environment with other smart people, let's talk. If you also enjoy working in a highly collaborative environment with a small-studio feel and focus, you'll like working here.

You must have the demonstrated ability to visualize and simplify complex problems, and a strong knowledge of interactive web technologies and processes. Our senior designers are expected to take an active, hands-on role in leading ideation with team members, providing art direction to other designers, and working efficiently with producers and technologists to implement designs.

People Design is organized around the belief that people are at the center of good design. We are a design consultancy with an international reputation for helping companies develop strong identities and compelling customer experiences. Check us out at www.peopledesign.com.
